House these days as a result of the President's information from many lips that there is a steadily increasing sentiment in his favor.

LOSING STRENGTH.
"Insurgency in so far as it means personal opposition to President Taft is losing strength in the West," declared one of the prominent politicians who arrived this evening. "I'm not making any predictions as yet as to what will happen in the election, but as far as the sentiment is concerned, the opposition to the president is losing ground every day."

The La Follette forces on the other hand are losing ground every day in some sections and there are insurgents who are not blinded by partianship, but who heretofore have had doubts as to Taft's executive qualifications, are beginning to think that general attack on him is unwarranted. If an error is made in the election, it will be a mistake on the part of the insurgents to have been loudest in their claims as to delegates.

"The messages which the President already has sent to Congress have struck the people favorably, and insurgents who are not blinded by partianship, but who heretofore have had doubts as to Taft's executive qualifications, are beginning to think that general attack on him is unwarranted. If an error is made in the election, it will be a mistake on the part of the insurgents to have been loudest in their claims as to delegates."

While statements of this kind are cheering the President and his friends, the La Follette Campaign Committee is not letting up in its effort to read-justify out of the ranks, not only of the insurgents, but the near-insurgents.
Perturbed a bit perhaps by the fact of the praise given to the trust message by some of the insurgent leaders, the Literary Bureau has taken it upon itself to further protect trade and commerce against unlawful restraints and monopolies is now declared to be a "complete and half-hearted" effort on the part of the administration to the position of Senator La Follette and his insurgents.

"It is today in the position of advocating what yesterday was condemned," proclaims the La Follette committee. "What will it do tomorrow?"

BUREAU OF DYNAMITERS FOUND IN INDIANAPOLIS.

McNamara Maintained Regular Correspondence on Subject of Outrages.

Letters of Inquiry from Unionites in Various Parts of Country as to Cost of Perpetrating "Jobs" Discovered in the "Dark Hole" of International Headquarters in Hoover Capital for Federal Grand Jury.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Orville McNamara's confession to the Federal authorities in Los Angeles, in which he is said to have stated that other persons than John J. McNamara, secretary-treasurer of the International Union of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, paid him for "dynamite" jobs since 1917, will be confirmed when United States Attorney Miller submits his evidence to the Federal grand jury here next week.

The government officials reason that the two McNamaras and Mc-Manigal could not have covered so much ground as the explosions in widely separated districts necessitated, J. J. McNamara's books and correspondence, it is asserted, will show how the ground was covered by others and the tale-tell letters are expected to fasten the cords around many of the conspirators.

It is said, however, that the McNamara brothers have been furnished to District Attorneys in several cities where explosions have occurred.

THE PROOF OF IT.
J. J. McNamara, it is believed, either demanded newspaper clippings showing the "job" had been done, or his lieutenants sent them, for many clippings are said to have been found in his papers.

As carefully as the evidence here is being guarded, important facts regarding it are coming to light. Since the Federal government seized it from the State a month ago, it has been watched day and night, but prior to that several persons saw portions of J. J. McNamara's private books and papers. That the latter were an amazing chain of evidence of dynamite plots, the very boldness of which ought to have made them comparatively easy to run down, was stated by a man who read some of the McNamara correspondence. While it has been stated repeatedly by the Union Iron Workers and other union labor leaders that under no circumstances would they be held responsible for the string of explosions that occurred during the past four years, the evidence will show, it is said, that every one who planned and executed with the intimate purpose of warning and intimidation the advocates of independent labor and the open shop that the union must be recognized.

In the McNamara letters there is said to be page after page of matter indicating clearly that the secretary-treasurer of the International Iron workers' Union not only carried on a most monstrous warfare against employers whom he regarded as unfriendly, but he had the almost open assurance of many members of his own organization. The evidence, it will connect heads of local unions with the dynamite plots.

IN THE CORRESPONDENCE.
There is said to be correspondence between McNamara and members of the organization which the plans for dynamiting property were made.
The letters, it is said, have been delivered to all the local unions asking them to send delegates to a conference for the purpose of considering an amalgamation of the workers of the country are divided in three classes, first, those affiliated with the union, second, those affiliated with the United Shoe Workers of America, a bitter rival of the boot and shoe workers' union, and third, those who are not affiliated with any of the three or four.

Local union labor leaders in Lynn will not deny that the movement in Lynn is the beginning of a sweeping movement to amalgamate all the unions not affiliated with the boot and shoe workers' union and to get all the boot and shoe workers' locals that can be induced to join.

It is understood that the movement will not be started in other shoe cities, with President Gompers, and the American Federation of Labor at present under fire and being watched the country over. The leaders in the proposed United Shoe Workers of America, Knights of Labor cutters, there are also several independent locals not affiliated with any of the three or four.

Whittaker says that there is a very keen interest in the game, and that the sailors will be ready to play at any time. The game will be played

JUDGE AFTER HORSE SPORTS.

Directs Gamblers to Show Why
They Are Not to Be Called Nuisances.

[A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
COLUMBIA (S. C.) Dec. 8.—
Chief Justice Jones today signed a rule directing officers of the Columbia Racing Association to show cause why the races at the State fair grounds should not be enjoined as a common nuisance, or resort for gambling.

The team score of 41 to 14. The team play of the collegians was too fast for the high school men, and they never had a chance from the first whistle to the last.

OCCIDENTAL WINS AT BASKETBALL.

Occidental, 29; Burbank High, 25.
It would seem as though Occidental is going to bring home the championship in one sport at least this year and upset the dope. Yesterday afternoon, before an enthusiastic crowd of rooters, the Tiger cohorts hung it out on Burbank High, leaders in the Suburban Basketball League, without the slightest effort.
The score does not begin to show the superiority of the collegians, as early in the second half two of the varsity were taken out to give some subs a chance. Stewart, though he played only two-thirds of the game, was the particular star, throwing seven baskets. Samis was Burbank's stellar performer.

The line-up:
Occidentals forward Burbank
Harkpatrick forward Brown
Hunter forward Brown center Hogan
Stewart guard Swain
Johnson guard Swain
Bishop guard Swain
Subs: Oxy—Stearns for Hunter.
Lawyer for Stewart.
Field goals—Stewart, 7; Samis, 6;
Kirkpatrick, 4; Johnson, 4; Hogan, 5;
Swain, 2; Hunter, 2; Lawyer, 2.
Penalty goals—Samis, 2; Hunter, 1.

NEW ENDURANCE RECORD BY GERMAN.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
JOHANNESBURG (Germany) Dec.
8.—A new endurance record for an aeroplane flight with a passenger was achieved today by Herr Savelack, the well-known aviator, who stayed in the air for four hours and twenty-three minutes.

The previous record was held by Herr von Hinner, who accomplished a flight with a passenger lasting two hours, ten minutes and fifty-five seconds.

Knock for Football.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.] Athletic games and football games, in particular, are in the air here. The Southern Athletic Club is in the city in an effort to secure a chance to play the navy team here. They are sure to be accepted by the sailors.

The team of the White Star is the crack five from the San Diego High School and will play the sailors here, winning by the one-scored in the first half.

The game will be played in the old-time style, and the team will work tomorrow

PITCHER HALL UNDER ARREST.

Boston Heaver Is Nabbed by Federal Officer.

Charged With Refusing to Fight Forest Fires.

Others to Be Charged With Same Offense.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
OXFORD, Dec. 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As the result of their refusal to fight fires during the recent fire troubles when they had been drafted by Fire Warden John Kuhlman, Charles Hall, pitcher for the Boston Americans and Harry Price of Los Angeles, who have been playing ball with the Ventura Winter League team, were today arrested. Their cases will come into court tomorrow and officials announce they will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

Should the players decide to demand a jury trial, officials believe they will have a hard time getting an unbiased jury, as nearly every man in the county is a baseball fan. The two men were drafted when fire threatened the ranches of this vicinity and were found to have disobeyed orders. Other arrests and prosecutions will follow, it is said.

WANT NEW PLANS.

That there will be little competition for bids for the construction of the proposed new Colorado-street bridge across the Arroyo Seco unless new plans are procured, was a report that was current in Pasadena yesterday. A royalty of $9000 that it is reputed must be paid to a Los Angeles engineer, if the present plans are accepted, was the reason that some of the con-age to the orange ranches has much less than might have been expected. Some of the trees which were very heavily loaded have lost and even in some cases branches have been broken off, but the crop practically be said to be unin-

Electrical Show Extended.
 The management of the Electrical Show now in progress in Shrine Auditorium announced yesterday that, on request by the public and the exhibitors, the show will be continued until Tuesday night. This will give three extra days, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, above the time originally planned. The popularity of the exhibition continues to be attested by the nightly and daily crowds, which have scarcely diminished in number since the opening night.

Associated Charities Elect.
 The first meeting of the new Board of Directors of the Associated Charities was called at the Westminster yesterday for the purpose of electing officers for 1912. Nominated for president, H. W. Frank asked to be excused on account of pressure of business and long services, but was overruled by argument and unanimously re-elected. Dr. George H. Kress, J. C. Hays and Mrs. N. E. Wilson were named first, second and third vice-presidents respectively. Spencer K. Sewall was elected secretary and Mary Isabel Foulton, assistant secretary. The United States National Bank continues as treasurer for the organization.

OIL REFINER'S SUDDEN DEATH.

MANLY TURNER IS SEIZED WITH HEART FAILURE.

Pioneer in Industry Here He Became President of Denmore-Stabler Company and Was Actively Engaged at His Duties, Although at an Advanced Age.

Manly W. Turner, president of the Denmore-Stabler Refining Company, died suddenly from heart failure at his home, No. 1602 Van Ness avenue, at 1:30 o'clock, last night. He was 78 years old.

Turner came to Los Angeles from Boston eighteen years ago, and was a pioneer in the oil industry here. In addition to oil properties he had extensive realty holdings.

Turner was at his offices Wednesday, and was apparently in the best of health. Owing to a cold, he did not go down town yesterday. He was about to retire when the dissolution came.

Turner was born at Roma, Mo., and at an early age went to Boston where he engaged in the electrical business. He was a Mason and Knight Templar, and had many acquaintances and friends in Southern California. His oil properties were located in Ventura county and at Whittier. He leaves a widow, Emily S. Turner, and a brother, J. F. Turner, who resides here. Funeral arrangements will be made this morning.

AN ELECTRICAL PANIC.

End of Sign of Thousands of Bulbs and Swings Over Street.

A runaway electric sign, fifty feet in its blazing length, snuffed from the tower of the Trust and Savings building, attracted the attention of scores between midnight and 1 o'clock yesterday morning, and plunged that block into a sort of electric panic.

The sign was hung ten days ago to advertise the big electric show at the Shrine Auditorium, and was made up of several thousand incandescent globes, which gives the name and place of the exhibition.

The north winds broke the fastenings which moored it to the building so that it whipped about in the night like a monstrous serpent. Its trifling writhings were hideously fascinating and scores of people collected at a distance to view the monster's mad gyrations.

The police department was notified, and within twenty minutes one of the electric companies had a squad of twenty men mounting the great tower, and cutting the live wires to render the danger to the people in the streets less imminent. Before the sign could be hoisted it had broken itself into two or three sections, and was making a terrific swing of fifteen or twenty feet from the building.

HORSE KILLS YOUNG WOMAN.

Runaway Animal Knocks Her Down on Street and She Expires in Hospital.

Miss Anna Foster, who was a solicitor for Coulter's Studio, died at the Emergency and General Hospital last night, as the result of injuries sustained last Monday, at a street intersection and Ceres avenue, where she was knocked down by a runaway horse.

Miss Foster, who was 22 years of age and resided at the Windsor Hotel, was waiting for a car, and was belonging to Joseph Espatiller, proprietor of a bakery at No. 821 Ceres avenue, broke away while being shod by G. B. Stevens, at No. 740 Central avenue, and ran Miss Foster down.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.] BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 8.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] H. A. Jastro, in a demurrer the suit of Bankrupt William to collect $7500 alleged to be due the Kern Valley Bank on an overdraft dating since 1893, claims that the suit is barred by the statute of limitations. Jastro also claims that he does not owe the bank money as charged, but that he settled all his accounts with the bank years ago.

TROPIC NOTES.

TROPICO, Dec. 8.—Burglars entered the Davis grocery store on San Fernando road and the cigar store at Park station the night of December 6, but failed to get much.

Bids for grading, curbing and building sidewalks on Cypress avenue from San Fernando road to Glendale avenue were presented by J. H. Parker and R. Sinclair. The latter, having put in the lowest bid, received the contract from the Board of Trustees.

A protest from residents on Park avenue against the improvement of that street from Central avenue to the Los Angeles line on the west, at the present time, was granted; but the City Engineer was instructed to prepare specifications in regard to grading and improving said street from Central avenue to Glendale avenue.

AVAILON.

AVAILON, Dec. 8.—George Knowles, aged 73, died here last evening, after a brief illness. For over twenty-five years Mr. Knowles has been a resident of the island, taking much interest in public life. The funeral will be held Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The body is to be interred at the Avalon Cemetery.

GLENDAL NOTE.

GLENDAL, Dec. 8.—Rev. R. O. Macintosh, who for the past two years has been rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church of this city, has tendered his resignation, to take effect January 1, 1912.

uary 1. Rev. Macintosh has been appointed priest in charge of the Episcopal Church work in the Imperial Valley, with supervision of the future development in the valley. Mr. Macintosh came to Glendale from St. John's Church, Springfield, Mo., in the diocese of Kansas City.

A bazaar will be held under the auspices of the Glendale Valley Improvement association early in January. At the next regular meeting of the association, Frank L. Muhleman will address the company on the new city charter.

The holiday vacation in the Glendale grammar schools will begin Friday afternoon of next week, and will continue for two weeks.

On Friday afternoon, December 15, a school of education for the instruction of the women voters of the valley will be held in the Knights of Pythias Hall.

CHARTER OAK, Dec. 8.—Olin Rose has sold to Frank E. Webster of Pasadena his ten-acre navel and Valencia grove, improved with a California pumkin, for $25,000, receiving in part payment that house and the grove in Pasadena, and balance cash. This grove was purchased less than a year ago for $15,000, added to this substantial profit is a very nice crop of oranges. Rose gives possession January 15, and in the meantime will locate if possible, again in the Charter Oak district.

The Charter Oak Citrus Association and the Pasadena Citrus Association have both opened for the season's work. The citrus association made the first shipment this week, an excellent quality of the fruit, together with the larger yield is certainly most encouraging to the growers. The rainfall here has not been heavy, the leaves were washed and the trees present a splendid healthy appearance.

CLAREMONT.

CLAREMONT, Dec. 8.—Fire destroyed the residence of Mrs. C. G. Fulkerson at 10 o'clock this morning. The contents were a total loss. A fire was left in the stove and it is supposed that is what caused the conflagration. A number of costly embroidered dresses from the Philippines were destroyed. The house was small and situated in a eucalyptus grove, and had the trees been dry, they were a more deadly blaze would probably have resulted.

Dr. Henry Kingman delivered an address on "Present Day Conditions in China" before the Hawthay Club, Thursday evening, Dr. Kingman is an authority on China, having spent a long time in that country. There are a number of former Claremont people in China, and several of them are in the provinces where the war is going on.

SAN FRANCISCO UNION BOSSES TO BE HERE.

Known that Federal Grand Jury Will Require Testimony of Most of Them Regarding Dynamite Conspiracy—Important Witnesses at the Inquiry Yesterday. McManigal Continues His Recital of the Operations.

In the Running.

Federation of Labor, is a witness and is regarded as having important information.

Among others supposedly summoned here are the following: Antonio Johansson, organizer of the State Building Trades, with headquarters in San Francisco; Andrew Gallagher, secretary of the Central Labor Council of San Francisco; J. E. Munsey, secretary-treasurer of the Structural Ironworkers Union of Salt Lake; H. S. Hockin, prominent member of the executive board of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Ironworkers, told the jurors all about the trips made in the East. McManigal is one of the chief witnesses for the government, the mother of the case. He has doubtless gone into detail. His testimony will also be required for the prosecution in the murder case. He was undoubtedly a participant in the dynamite plot.

McManigal perhaps told of his arrest in Detroit, in company with J. S. McNamara, when they were about to pull off another "job." McManigal knows much about the internal administration of the Structural Ironworkers' Union, particularly as to its "dynamite squad," which planned and carried out execution numerous ex-communicates. Much of his testimony at this point would not have been used in the McNamara trial. Dist. Atty. Fredericks was not trying the defendant for conspiring to blow up buildings in the East. He was prosecuting J. B. McNamara for the destruction of the Times Building with its loss of twenty lives.

STORING OF DYNAMITE. It is more than probable that the jurors will want to know all about the plot to store dynamite in conventional hiding-places to use by the dynamiters as occasion required. Even if the testimony is not all pertinent to the end being investigated here, the United States authorities can make use of it elsewhere.

In spite of the months he has passed in jail, McManigal has lost none of his jaunty air. He looks well-dressed and care-free. He was dressed yesterday in a neatly-fitting dark suit, fancy waistcoat and wore a fashionable cravat.

When McManigal goes East to testify he will be carefully guarded by Bureau detectives for fear that some of the labor union men might assassinate the man whom they regard as partially responsible for the revelations.

FROM SAN FRANCISCO. The Federal officials can summon witnesses from all over the country. But this is done as a rule only where such persons have knowledge of some criminal act within the jurisdiction of the local United States District Court. By far the greater number of the subpoenas so far for San Francisco and vicinity have been issued by the District Attorney, furnished Special Prosecutor Lawler with a list of his witnesses. It is reported that O. A. Trelmose, treasurer of the State Little Charles Clark, Who has been missing since Thursday night.

MYSTERY OF LITTLE BOY.

Child of Nine Disappears and District Attorney's Detectives Take Up Search—Last Seen With Others.

Charles Clark, a bright-eyed boy of 9 years, is missing from the Key West Hotel, No. 522 South Grand avenue, night. He was playing in front of the hotel, where his mother lives. The father, George P. Clark, does not live with his wife. He is a partner of Editor Jones of the Antelope Valley Gazette, published at Lancaster. He is almost frantic, and Mrs. Clark is prostrated.

Mrs. Reeves, an employee of a department store, has told Detective Fredericks that she saw the boy playing in front of the hotel Thursday night with three or four other lads about his own age. "If Franklin remains silent and takes the brunt of the bribery crime on his own shoulders the State will prosecute to the limit," said the detective. "The briber seeks to defeat the ends of justice and if he is allowed to go unpunished then our courts will become mere travesties on justice. We have two counts against Franklin, one charging him with bribing a juror and the other charging him with the bribery of a person summoned as a prospective juror. The first crime carries with it a maximum penalty of ten years in the penitentiary, while the second carries a penalty of five years."

As George N. Lockwood, whom Franklin is accused of bribing, is a voluntary witness against the detective, and as he aided the District Attorney's detective in the evidence which led to Franklin's arrest, the State maintains that its case is complete. Lockwood was merely a prospective juror, not having been sworn in to serve on the jury, and for

EXPECTING FRANKLIN WILL PLEAD GUILTY.

District Attorney Believes When He Sees the Evidence He Can Do Nothing but Make Clean Breast of Affair—Names of Alleged Go-betweens Expected to Come Out at the Preliminary Monday.

PREPARING to ask that the severest punishment be meted out to Bert H. Franklin, accused of bribing a prospective juror in the McNamara case, Assistant District Attorney Ford yesterday made ready to push the Franklin trial Monday morning.

Statements were made by both Capt. Fredericks and Ford yesterday that they expect Franklin to make a clean breast of the entire bribery scandal. They declare that the detective for the McNamara defense can do nothing else in view of the evidence.

"Franklin will plead guilty, I believe," said Capt. Fredericks. "We are ready to go ahead with the trial. We want no delay in this case." Ford informed him.

"Well, I just wanted to know, so that I could make my plans accordingly," Davis replied.

Bert H. Franklin, recent chief detective for the dynamiters' defense, whose preliminary hearing as an alleged jury briber will come up Monday morning. The District Attorney expects him to confess.

Enough evidence will be presented at the Franklin hearing to warrant his being held to a higher court for trial, according to Ford. "The names of several men have been mentioned in the case, two of them as having been suggested by Franklin as 'go-betweens' in the payment of money to Lockwood. The identity of these men will be disclosed at the trial, and it is likely that they will be mentioned at the preliminary hearing Monday."

At the present time detectives for the State are working to secure evidence strong enough to implicate the men who furnished Franklin with the money that it is asserted he was using to bribe the dynamiters' jury.

THEIR CASE OVER. The Hall of Records trio, A. B. Maple, Bert Connors and F. Ira Bender, appeared in Department Twelve of the Superior Court yesterday for trial, unaccompanied by their counsel, LeCompte Davis. Deputy District Attorney Hammond appeared for the State, asked that the case be continued until January 4, owing to the pressure of work incident to the Federal grand jury investigation of the dynamiting conspiracy. The continuance was granted. Bender, Maple and Connors are charged with having attempted to dynamite the Hall of Records.

CHRISTMAS SEAL DAY. Board of Education, Co-operating With Anti-Tuberculosis Agencies, Sets Apart Next Thursday for Sale. Thursday, December 14, has been selected as Christmas Seal Day in the city schools, and the State Superintendent will ask that it be observed by all schools in the State. The date was decided upon yesterday, in a conference between Secretary Main and the school authorities, and the arrangement was brought to the attention of the State Superintendent by long-distance telephone. Each school will be supplied with an envelope for each pupil, each containing 100 Red Cross seals, and given to the pupil with the recommendation that they sell them and make return on Friday afternoon to the teacher, but no pupil is to be urged to take them against his will. The principal will return to the office of the Board of Education on Saturday or to the clerk's office at the Polytechnic High School on Monday.

"Several times I have visited Los Angeles and always I have gained a better impression of the city," he said. "The large number of Japanese subjects who are living in Southern California need better representation than they are getting and for that reason on my present visit to Japan I shall take up seriously the matter of establishing a consulate for them here."

"This will obviate the necessity of handling official matters through the San Francisco consulate, which is the present method of procedure and it will give the local colony of my people a much better opportunity of making known their needs and having an official leader in the community."

COMPREHENSIVE PLANS TO CLEAR TRAFFIC.

A HENDERSON, assistant general manager of the Los Angeles Railway Company, completed eleven months of study of the crowded traffic conditions of the city yesterday, with the result that he prepared a traffic plan which will eliminate 684 street car crossings an hour in the business district, and will permit the taking out of thirty curve tracks in the congested district.

The plan for the new operation was sent to the Board of Public Utilities yesterday afternoon for formal acceptance by the city and the changes planned, if ratified, will be put in operation before December 15.

The plan which Henderson and J. Akin, general superintendent, have worked out is to connect up the lines running to opposite parts of the city and to eliminate the turning back of cars through loop operation in the heart of the business district.

Five lines of cars now operating practically empty cars on Spring street, between Second and Fourth, will be removed and the total number of lines will be reduced from eleven to six. These lines, however, will carry the entire traveling public with ease and will simply remove the turn back empty cars which now block the street.

Another relief will be afforded by the through routing of cars that now turn around the Temple block, so that in the future this section of the street will not be used for a switch yard.

Sixteen of about twenty lines operating in the city are changed in the new scheme.

The Washington street and Maple avenue lines are consolidated and will be operated by way of Fifth street and Maple avenue under two and one-half minute headway. Another consolidated line will be the Pico Heights and San Pedro line, which will be operated by way of Broadway, Fourth and San Pedro, three minute headway. West Ninth street will be connected with the Brooklyn avenue, operating by way of Spring, North Main and Macy streets, four minute headway. West Eleventh, by way of Broadway and Second street to Santa Fe station, Grand avenue (Forty-eighth street) by way Broadway north of First and turn back.

The Hooper and West Adams lines are consolidated and will run by way of Main, Third and Hill streets, on a three to four minute headway. The Griffin avenue end of the Hooper line is cut off and connected with Huntington Park line. The Georgia street line is to be way of Third, turning back at Third and Los Angeles; West Jefferson, by way Main and Temple block, turning back at Temple block. The Huntington Park and Griffin avenue lines will run by way of Spring, Main and North Main.

FIRE TORTURES YOUNG WOMAN.

SHIRT OVERTURNS LAMP AND IGNITES GASOLINE.

Clothing is Burned from Her Body and Husband is Injured in Trying to Save Her—Little Hope of Recovery Held out by Doctors—The House is Saved.

Mrs. Katherine Rasch was possibly fatally burned as the result of a gasoline explosion in the basement of her home, No. 735 East Fourteenth street, last night. Her husband, William Rasch, an employee of the Eastern Outfitting Company, who went to her rescue, was severely burned about the hands, arms and shoulders.

The fire started when Mrs. Rasch overturned a lamp in the basement. It spread to an exposed five-gallon can of gasoline, and before Mrs. Rasch could effect escape her clothes were aflame. She ran from the basement into the yard, calling for help. Her husband rushed from the house and seizing a quilt threw it around her in an effort to smother out the fire. Neighbors aided him, and an alarm was turned in. A fire company arrived in time to extinguish the fire in the basement before it reached the main floor.

Rasch refused to allow his wife to be taken in the police ambulance, and she is cared for at the house. Her clothes were practically burned from her body, and little hope is held out for her recovery. She is 35 years old. Her suffering is intense.

The Raschs have two children—Margaret, aged 8 years, and William, aged 3. The children were in the house at the time of the fire, but were not injured.

CONCERT FOR LODGE BENEFIT. Mrs. R. C. Beekman and pupils will give a musical recital on Tuesday evening in Atlas Hall, Central avenue and Adams street, for the benefit of Atolia Rebekah Lodge. They will be assisted by James A. Myers, in dialect readings.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

In the appointment of Capt. John K. Bulger to succeed the late Capt. John Birmingham as supervising inspector of the United States steamboat inspection service for the First (Pacific Coast) district, the Harbor Commission expects to raise Los Angeles to equal rank with Seattle, Portland and San Francisco by the appointment of a local inspection board. Councilmen are alarmed at the prospects of another special election under the initiative provision of the charter.

By testifying in his father's behalf and incriminating himself, Earl Stein was arrested for breaking his parole and must serve a five-year sentence in San Quentin.

At the City Hall.

HARBOR TO HAVE FEDERAL BOARD.

LOCAL STEAMBOAT INSPECTORS TO BE NAMED.

Message from Senator to Secretary of Commission Says He Will Co-operate—Will Give Los Angeles Equal Recognition With Seattle, Portland and San Francisco.

To procure Federal recognition of the fact that the harbor of Los Angeles ranks with Seattle, Portland and San Francisco, the Harbor Commission has asked upon the opportunity offered by the enactment of Capt. John K. Bulger, local inspector of boats, in the steamboat inspection service for San Francisco, to succeed the late Capt. John Birmingham as supervising inspector of the service for the First district (the Pacific Coast), and has secured from him a promise to approve the application of Los Angeles for a local inspection board.

Capt. Birmingham died last week at the age of 82 years. Capt. Bulger has been his chief assistant for many years, and will probably succeed him. The selection of harbors where a local board, consisting of a local inspector of boats and a local inspector of hulls and a local inspector of boilers is located, is made on the recommendation of the supervising inspector by the Department of Commerce and Labor. Washington. Capt. Bulger's appointment will be followed by his sending the petition of Los Angeles on with his approval. The Harbor Commission telegraphed to Senator Bulger suggesting that in the naming of Bulger the interests of Los Angeles be protected and yesterday Secretary A. P. Fleming received this dispatch in reply: "Bulger recommended to succeed Birmingham and will be appointed unless valid reasons presented why he should not be. He has been highly recommended from many sources. Shall be glad to co-operate in securing local board for Los Angeles."

Should Bulger be promoted, Capt. Joseph Dolan of San Francisco is a candidate to succeed to Bulger's present place, which pays $12,000. The supervising inspector gets $3000.

INITIATIVE HIGH.

COUNCIL SHOWS CONCERN. The cost of special elections is something that is getting the members of the City Council some concern and on several occasions they have talked the matter over among themselves, but with no proposition forthcoming to avoid the expense. The City Attorney, when appealed to, has been able to offer no relief.

Under the initiative, said Chairman Washburn of the Finance Committee of the Council, in discussing the possibilities, "the City Attorney proposed to be introduced by the initiative is a bona fide proposition. Under it no one may call a special election until 11 o'clock in the morning." Councilman Andrews has also taken the matter up. He has spent several hours with the Mayor talking over this question as well as others, and he has warned his colleagues of the outlook. Andrews' investigations have shown him that the cost of these special elections, if they have to be called every time a petition shall receive signatures amounting to 15 percent of the vote cast at the last previous election, will be enormous. Over 20,000 signatures of voters will be required to call a special election and to get that number will take a quantity of industry and outlay of money.

How much a special election would cost is uncertain, but the City Attorney figures that one would probably result in pulling from $10,000 to $20,000 out of the city treasury.

COMMISSIONER RESIGNS.

VACANCY ON HARBOR BOARD. M. H. Newmark sent his resignation as a member of the Harbor Commission to the Mayor yesterday. Newmark has served since December 21, 1909, when he was named by Alexander for the place under the old ordinance. Newmark drew the two-year term at that time and was willing to serve for two years. Under the amendment to the charter last spring the Mayor re-appointed him as a member of the reorganized board. He has given as much attention to the work as he has found it possible to give, but now, as he told the Mayor in his note of resignation, he is about to take an extensive European trip and feels that he must withdraw.

The resignation was wholly unexpected. Mayor Alexander was much surprised as anyone else and said that he had not the remotest idea whom he should appoint to the vacancy. He will see Newmark to-day and discuss the matter with him, and until after that conference the resignation will not be formally accepted.

ASKS UNCLE SAM.

THE CITY WON'T WAIT. Failing to receive any satisfactory reply to its question as to when the Outer Dock and Wharf Company expects to finish its excavation in the west basin alongside of Huntington st., the Board of Public Works will now appeal direct to the United States for permission to dredge and make its own fill. This was decided upon yesterday after a full discussion of the situation before the Advisory Committee of the Bureau of Harbor Improvement.

The Bureau of Public Works is much incensed at the terms of the letter received from President Miner of the company, which the members of the bureau are public documents, are flippant and evasive. As to the outcome no doubt is entertained at all and it was stated to the Advisory Committee that the precedence of a public work was never disputed by the Federal authorities. The board expects the desired information within a fortnight or so.

CUTS OUT STEAM.

AIR LINE ELECTRIFIED. Permission was granted by the Board of Public Utilities yesterday to convert the old Southern Pacific steam road from Santa Monica into an electric line.

Owing to the fact that there is no chance to double-track the road, as it runs through part of the city, no effort will be made to run more than a single-track service, and, in addition to freight, this line will carry passengers. But it will not be the main cross-town line, as was anticipated some time ago.

The company now in control of the line is the Pacific Electric, which was represented before the Board of Public Utilities yesterday afternoon by Assistant General Manager Henderson and General Superintendent J. J. Alkin. They promised to make prompt passenger service and that freight will be carried only at night. This was satisfactory to a delegation of property owners from the neighborhood through which the line will pass.

City Hall Notes.

A northern magazine has just obtained a large photograph of the harbor, which is to be published as a picture of "The Ideal Harbor of the Pacific Coast."

The Bureau of Harbor Improvement yesterday directed the assistant engineer to prepare plans for the fisherman's wharf and building at Terminal Island, adjoining the Salt Lake Railway station. It will cost $65,000 to $75,000 and will be one of the finest in the country.

On the petition of property owners, the Board of Public Works yesterday directed the preparation of a recommendation to the City Council for the widening of Central avenue for seven miles from Second to Jackson streets. This revives a proposition suggested two years ago, but which was at the time turned down by Deputy City Attorney Robertson and Deputy District Attorney Hanna because of the framing of the lease of the proposed Exposition Park playgrounds from the county and the city to the Playground Commission.

Oil Inspector Blackman reported yesterday that twenty-eight oil derricks were blown down by the wind Thursday night.

At the Courthouse.

SON'S SACRIFICE OPENS THE JAIL.

TESTIMONY ON STAND SHOWS HE BREAKS PAROLE.

He Exculpates Father from Grave Charge, but Commits Himself, and Warrant is Issued for His Arrest. Must Serve Five Years Imprisonment at San Quentin.

The trial of Ed C. Stein, charged with having contributed to the delinquency of Miss Edith Becker, 17 years old, a ward of the court, has had an unexpected effect on his son, Earl. The latter, who is on parole for a felony committed in San Francisco, must serve five years in San Quentin as the result of his testimony in the case in the Superior Court. He denied that his father was guilty of the charge, and admitted his own part in it. The case will probably go to the jury this afternoon.

Earl is a witness in the case against his father. The testimony of Miss Becker, Mrs. Edna M. Ackerman, a youthful wife who left her husband after a short honeymoon, and yesterday, Stein testified that the father and son were with Miss Becker and Mrs. Ackerman on the night of November 10, in a room at the rear of a machine shop, Fifteenth and Main streets. Miss Becker testified that the father Stein gave her a package of liquor. Stein denied the allegations, and swore that it is a conspiracy on the part of the father.

Another angle to the case is a suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Stein. Previously, when Miss Becker was brought before Judge Wilbur in the juvenile court, Mrs. Stein testified that on the night the alleged misconduct took place, her husband had removed the bed clothes from her in her own house, and carried them to the shop to make the girls comfortable. Earl has been arrested for breaking his parole and will be taken to San Quentin to serve his sentence.

GRANTS INJUNCTION. AFFECTS SOUTHERN PACIFIC. Judge Bordwell yesterday granted the Title Insurance and Trust Company an injunction restraining the Southern Pacific Company from dissolving the stock of the Southern Pacific Company pending the termination of the litigation for the foreclosure of the deed of trust held by the trust company on the irrigation system of the California Development Company, which is one of the defendants in the suit.

The latter company originally ran canals through Mexico owing to the physical contour of the country, and for this purpose formed the Mexican company, A. S. S. of the system, therefore, is in Mexico and the proportion to the Imperial Valley. The Southern Pacific Company secured a judgment from the Republic of Mexico, and the result was the formation of the New Mexican Company, the stock of which it owns.

The New Mexican Company apparently has legal title to the property in Mexico. This brings the Southern Pacific into the suit, as the trust company contends that the irrigation system is united and therefore entire, and the foreclosure proceedings are for the entire system.

HIS HAMMER OUT.

JUDGE HITS RED TAPE. Eleven of the Superior Court, had his little hammer out yesterday, he whacked the City Prosecutor's office and slashed departmental red tape by declaring from the bench that a citizen cannot walk from the Hall of Justice to First street without breaking one of the numerous city ordinances.

These remarks were called forth by the appeal of W. N. Hendricks for a new trial. He had been before a Justice by the City Prosecutor and fined $5 or five days for taking a public document from the offices of the Board of Public Works. This archive, protected by ordinance, consisted of a profile map of Boyle Heights. Hendricks believed that George Bacon, a clerk, had told him he might carry the map away. Bacon testified that he had given it to him to look at in the office. Hendricks returned the map the following day.

Judge Willis granted a new trial and then dismissed the case, adding his comment on the multiplicity of ordinances which lie in wait for the unwary citizen.

PURE MILK ISSUE.

ORDINANCE IS ATTACKED. Whether condensed milk adds to the richness of cream or is an adulteration, and therefore prohibited under Ordinance No. 26837, will be threshed out before Judge Willis in Department Twelve.

George E. Platt is charged with having violated the ordinance, and in the answer allegedly that there is no restriction or regulation in the ordinance labeling the specific product known as cream fortified by condensed milk. The only direct prohibition against it being it for sale in Los Angeles. The cream taken as a sample contained 20.44 per cent butter fat, and 12.67 per cent milk solids. It is claimed that by the addition of cream the food product was made richer.

The ordinance is attacked as unnecessary and as a restriction on the exercise of police power and because it calls for the prohibition of food products. The City Council, therefore, has not the police power to prohibit the sale of food products. The plaintiff's attorney will submit briefs Tuesday and the defendant's on the following Saturday.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS. TIME TO HALT. Sophie A. Frish appeared before Judge Bordwell once too often yesterday. T. troubles of the Frish family have occupied the courts so numerous that Judge Bordwell told her he thought she might be committed to jail. Some time ago he denied her a decree. She filed a new complaint and Judge Hutton, who knew nothing of the facts, granted her a divorce which later dissolved. She charged cruelty; her husband desertion. When she appeared yesterday the court informed her it was time to stop persisting after a decree had been denied.

JOURNEY HALTS. The District Attorney wants Dr. J. W. Jones as a witness against Thomas M. McCormick in Department Twelve, on the 19th inst., on the charge of bribery. Jones was indicted for bribery and sentenced to one year in San Quentin. Yesterday Judge McCormick granted a writ of commitment for twenty days.

DAMAGE SUIT. Valuing her earning capacity as a solicitor for the Pacific Mutual Insurance Company in five months at $1750, $15 for a hat and a watch, a woman who was involved in a collision between a wagon of the Los Angeles Creamery Company and a Los Angeles street car, made claim for damages at $224. Alice E. Hynes asked $249. The ground was that the railway and the creamery company. A jury was drawn yesterday in Department Twelve. Judge Wilbur will decide whether negligence attached to both companies, or either. The accident occurred February 14, last.

HOLDING HIM OFF. In an effort to discourage marriages contracted on the installment plan, Judge Wilbur yesterday told Valentine Carey, process server for the District Attorney's office, who was induced to sue for a divorce, that he would not sign the decree for awhile. The marriage took place in Ventura fifty-four days after the couple became acquainted. Carey, a year ago left her husband, stating in a letter that she would not return.

FREE FROM HIM. Mrs. Mary A. Magee was granted a divorce on the ground of desertion by Judge Wilbur yesterday. The evidence showed that, in order to forestall the suit, her husband had her tried for insanity. She was arrested in 1910, and the case was dismissed. She will take her maiden name of Kison.

GETS NOTHING. Judgment was received by the County Clerk yesterday in favor of the County of Los Angeles in the case of L. S. Taylor, who asked $10,000 damages for injuries received October 2, last, from a horse owned by Judge Burroughs of Lassen county.

SQUARE PARK. Condemnation proceedings were begun before Judge Craig in Department Seven of the Superior Court yesterday to acquire an area of seven acres for the purpose of making a square of Agricultural Park. The ground is west of old Thirty-eighth street. It contains about six houses.

OVER THE ROAD. Noel Wright was sentenced to two years at San Quentin by Judge Willis yesterday. He was convicted of a serious offense, committed at Whittier, against Miss Laurette Elder, under promise of marriage.

INCORPORATIONS. Pier Investment Company, incorporated by J. M. Parsell, A. M. Goodhue, Mason L. Card, capital stock $50,000, subscribed $20,000. Consolidated Mining Company, incorporated by Craven Jackson, E. W. Parker, L. W. Klinker, Leroy Smith, capital stock $100,000, subscribed $20,000. HE STOPPED BLOWS. When J. A. Thompson was half led and half carried into the County Jail Thursday night he looked as though he had attempted to whip half a dozen men, and was a victor. One of the man's eyes was closed and he could hardly see out of the other. His nose was broken and his head was a mass of puffs. His clothes were dyed from his own blood. He was the victim of Charles Larsen. He was in a somewhat disheveled condition, too, as was also Mrs. Kate Larsen, who has been placed under arrest at the time her husband and Thompson were taken into custody. All the parties lie at Bellevue hospital. The husband, Thompson, a light fellow, Thompson, was beaten about by two bandits. Croft, heard the shooting and gave chase to the robbers, one of whom turned upon the officer and shot at him. Croft returned the fire and thinks that his shot took effect, but the highwayman escaped.

MAYOR IS SPECIAL GUEST.

Addresses Throng at the Electrical Exposition, Asserting This City Will Have Cheapest Juice.

Mayor Alexander was the special guest of the management of the Electrical Exposition at the Shrine Auditorium Thursday night. He was treated to special exhibitions of the novel electrical devices, including the X-ray, high frequency static, electrical machines and many others, and afterward made a brief address to the great throng gathered there. The Mayor said:

"I do not want to talk politics nor discuss any of the issues of the campaign tonight. The campaign is over, and it is now time for us to lay aside party prejudices, quit the issues and get down to the business of making the best administration of Los Angeles and its citizens."

The management of this exposition have collected an array of devices which the city can use to its advantage. Electricity may be put to, but I want to say to you tonight that the present and best administration of Los Angeles will demonstrate that electricity can be made cheaply for its citizens, cheaper than any other city can make it, and that will be when we have developed the Owens River power."

HE CURSES OLD GLOOM.

Arrested for 'Disturbing Religious Meeting, He Shows Hatred of Conquest for Flag at the City Jail.

Stung by the result of the recent election, George A. Thompson, a local officer of the I.W.W., attempted to break up a religious meeting at First and Los Angeles streets Thursday night and was arrested after he had insulted the victorious candidates as well as the lowly worshippers in the congregation.

Upon being taken before the police sergeant's headquarters, Thompson noticed two American flags suspended above his head and again gave vent to his wrathful words. A button showing that he was a paid agent of the order was found concealed in his pocket together with a Harrington and Richardson.

His pugilistic aspirations were suppressed and he was carried bodily to the County Jail.

Thompson declared that he had just returned here from a visit to Goldfield.

ASSAILANT YET ROAMS.

Wounded Patrolman Taken Home From Hospital After Being Shot by Unidentified Mexican.

Patrolman E. C. Croft, who received a bullet wound in his left arm Thursday night while endeavoring to capture a deserting bandit, was taken to the Receiving Hospital to be treated. He is now at his home, No. 644 San Fernando street yesterday. He is resting well and his physicians say he will recover within a few days.

So far no clew has been found as to the whereabouts of the man who shot Croft. A few minutes prior to the shooting Thursday night Michael Nichols, a laborer, had been wounded in the arm by a bullet fired by two bandits. Croft, heard the shooting and gave chase to the robbers, one of whom turned upon the officer and shot at him. Croft returned the fire and thinks that his shot took effect, but the highwayman escaped.

BLAME MUCH ON HIM.

Negro Arrested Yesterday Afternoon Robbed Seven Houses in Four Days, Say Officers.

The police allege that Charles Hartwell, a negro who was apprehended late yesterday afternoon on North Main street, robbed four houses on Gleason street, and three houses in other districts, between December 2 and December 8.

Hartwell was arrested from the description given of him by W. M. Van Fleet, No. 2516 Gleason street, who said that he had seen the negro making his escape from Van Fleet's residence, after having stolen property from the house. Other men whose homes have lately been entered and from whom property was stolen are: R. E. Dickey, No. 530 East Jefferson street; E. F. Rosen, No. 4148 South Chicago street; M. F. Shaffer, No. 2119 East Fourth street; R. J. Dalmeyer, No. 2524 Gleason street; O. F. White, No. 2509 Gleason street, and J. N. Noblett, No. 2504 Gleason street.

The officers who arrested Hartwell said that the negro confessed to several robberies and said he would show where he had hidden the stolen property.

NOT ANGRY, BUT WORRIED.

Horse and Dog Stolen From Angel Pastor on Visit to Sick Member of His Church.

Rev. P. F. Brees, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, is completely mystified. He cannot understand why anyone should wish to steal an old horse and an old buggy from an old man when there are so many bright, new automobiles standing on the streets as constant invitations to thieves.

Mr. Brees left his home, No. 1126 Santee street, yesterday morning and went to the Clara Barton Hospital to visit a patient, who is a member of his church. He drove there in his old-fashioned, single-top buggy. At 10 o'clock, when he left the hospital, he saw the hitching weight lying on the sidewalk, but the little sorrel mare and the buggy were gone.

Rev. Brees is more than 71 years of age, but he is not too old to walk when there's no other way out, so he promptly walked to the car line and caught the next car home. He is much obliged to whoever got his horse for leaving the weight, but he has asked the officers to help him find the rest of the outfit.

CRAZED BY ILL FORTUNE. After Alleged Attempt to Shoot Wife Dependent Barber Cuts Own Throat With Professional Razor.

Failing in an alleged attempt to shoot his wife, Edward Gamble, a barber residing at No. 912 East Fifty-third street, yesterday cut his throat three times with a razor which he had used professionally on hundreds of men on the throats of other men.

Gamble left home early yesterday morning returning at 11 o'clock. Mrs. Gamble asked him if he was sick. In reply, she says, he pulled a revolver from his hip pocket and began to shoot at her. Mrs. Gamble ran into a closet and shut the door. Gamble tried to open it and failing thereupon he ran to his own room and cut his throat.

Neighbors, who heard the shots, ran in to help. Gamble was taken to the Receiving Hospital where his wounds were dressed. Three transverse lacerations had been made across his throat, grazing the thyroid gland. He will recover.

BUT GETS HIS MAN.

Deputy Constable Charles Benjamin ruined a screen door by falling through it while arresting Leonard Oakes. Mrs. Bertha Oakes swore to a complaint, charging him with failure to provide Oakes with an expert fighter, large of stature and heavy in pounds. Benjamin is small in every way excepting grit and nerve. Oakes mentally decided that no man of Benjamin's size could take him to jail, and resisted arrest.

While he was putting the handcuffs on his prisoner, Benjamin went through the screen door at the home of Oakes' mother at Seventh and San Pedro streets.

HURRY THOMPSON TRIAL.

Rapid progress was made yesterday in the taking of testimony in the Fred H. Thompson case. A half dozen witnesses, including Mrs. Annie C. White, mother of Orlando F. Alterre, were disposed of.

At the close of the day Assistant United States District Attorney Regan stated that the government's case would be in the hands of the jury by Wednesday night. The case was adjourned until Tuesday morning, when the reading of the testimony of a number of eastern witnesses, including Thompson, had financial dealings, will take place under stipulation.

Laziness

Suppose a man can earn $3 a day, but he won't do it. He says he is too lazy and good-for-nothing, don't you? Apply this to money. Your dollars have a value and good-for-nothing, don't you? But if you let them lie idle in a box, they are lazy and good-for-nothing. Don't let your dollars be lazy. Put them to work. Make them earn a living.

In the Green North Hills of Glendale 35 Minutes from the Heart of Broadway

In this Project you derive two profits from one investment. Consider the Plan—Then see the results.

I want you to come and investigate how our organization of homesteaders and investors have secured home sites at wholesale prices, about one-third to one-half of what the market would pay, and how they have made the profits on which they bought at such low prices, and also actual profits two ways, because they participated in the townships which accrued from the going upon hitherto unoccupied these hundreds of families. Wasco, now the trading center of the Lost Hills oil field; is one of the notable examples of this.

I am now forming a club of one thousand families to select take over a little valley containing 1600 acres of beautiful sloping, only 25 minutes by trolley from the heart of Broadway. Each member will receive a home plot fully improved, and from the thousands of acres will receive profits from the sale of the adjacent well as from your own lot. Look it over at once. This is a unique chance. Remember that only 1000 families will be selected. Benefits of 100 per cent stock participation. You can secure a lot, fully improved, perfectly level, and in the protected hills you ought to live, as low as $400. Don't regard the price as a section where lots are worth thousands instead of hundreds, but remember that you will become the population, and you will benefit of the increment on adjoining land. Will you be a thousand club?

THE WIND.

How still was the world yesterday after the wind swept by—as still as hearts or which sorrow has fallen.

A GREAT BOAST.

Santa Barbara county this year produced 590,000 pounds of sugar. The world can listen to a good deal of bragging from a county which delivers the goods in this fashion.

A STRANGE DOOR.

Santa Monica Canyon lies within shouting distance of a rare civilization. It lies close to the heart of culture and action. Nevertheless, it has proven the grave of oblivion and the secret doorway to the eternal silence for a strange multitude of those who have sought to put aside the cloak of mortality. Within five years a dozen skeletons have been found there and at least two of them have never been identified.

LOS ANGELES.

Without a doubt Los Angeles is the most frequently-mentioned city in the world. Besides that, there are more people on the streets here, day and night, in proportion to the population, than in any other city of the world. And there are more patrons of the theaters, a higher percentage of the registered vote cast, a greater number of pretty girls and a whole lot else in Los Angeles in excess of other cities that we might mention if space permitted.

PURE BENEVOLENCE.

Isn't it curious the earnest way in which all the lawyers who defended the McNamara's are rushing into print to assure the public that they took up the case purely on philanthropic grounds, animated with the sole idea that two unfortunates should get a fair and impartial trial? It was pure benevolence on the part of these gentlemen. There are other unfortunates who are more worthy of such pure benevolence than the dynamiters, but then they have no half-million defense fund behind them.

SENSITIVE.

There is a little running vine bearing a tiny pink blossom which in Kansas is called the sensitive rose. In Tennessee the children call it the shamed vine because its foliage withers at every touch. In feeling nearly every person alive is like this delicate plant, only not all of them display their emotion. Men live in a world in which people are easily hurt. In spite of the fact that nearly every one believes himself or herself to be the most sensitive person in the world they never seem to learn the urgent need of always showing a fine consideration for others.

JOHN CHINAMAN.

The Chinese appear sure to be in the throes of an awakening. The announcement that an edict has gone forth from the throne ordering John to make dates and do other things according to the Roman calendar is nothing less than astounding. Next thing we know the Chinese will adopt the Roman alphabet and then we shall all be able to read Confucius in the original.

Among other things, this change in the calendar means that the Chinese will now celebrate the New Year on the same day that we celebrate it. Consequently, there will be more shots to be fired and about four hundred million more drinks to be taken on that off-recurring and ever-eventful anniversary of Old Time's fateful birth. But let us hope that the change in the calendar will not affect at least one Chinese New Year custom, namely, the immemorial rule of the Chinese to pay all their debts on that day. We must, of course, welcome every effort which our almond-eyed brothers make to be more like us than they are at present, but we insist that their custom of wiping the slate clean on New Year's Day is something that we might copy with vast profit and comfort to ourselves.

OVER TWO BILLIONS EXPORTS.

By the last day of this year our exports of general merchandise will have reached a value exceeding $2,100,000,000, the largest total of any calendar year in our history. The figure, according to a Bureau of Statistics bulletin, reached on October 31, was $1,966,925,427, and we have only to do as well this November and December as we did in the same last two months of last year, namely, $135,223,060, to have a total exceeding $2,100,000,000. Then our record of exports by recent calendar years will be:

1908	$1,728,670,188
1909	1,709,721,895
1910	1,827,255,669
1911	2,100,000,000
Increase in three years	371,329,812
Increase in two years	398,278,105
Increase in one year	272,744,321

And all our own products and manufactures, exclusive of the $100,000,000 or more worth of goods which we shall have sent this year to Hawaii, Porto Rico, Alaska and Guam, besides the large volume of American goods and supplies sent by the government to these territories and to the Philippines.

A very comforting part of this good result for the year is the fact that fully $1,000,000,000 worth of the exports will be goods from our work and wage-producing factories.

Between Russia and the furriers, the Persian lamb is having its troubles.

GOMPERS AND THE FOLLY OF INDUSTRIAL MONOPOLY.

Manifested in the labor camps throughout the country is a distinct nervousness—an unmistakable anxiety over the present situation as respects the fate of the McNamara brothers, the self-confessed and self-condemned dynamiters, who have been justly sentenced by Judge Nordwell for their monstrous crimes.

The widespread and voluminous outpourings from the mouths of labor leaders are most significant. They denote plainly the bad plight in which these involved leaders find themselves at this particular juncture. They are busily doing the "disclaiming" act. Organized labor is not guilty but innocent, if we are to believe their numerous proclamations and protestations.

Of one of these leaders—the most impudent, the most unscrupulous in body and person, the most indefensible, to wit, Samuel Gompers—it can only be said, "He doth protest too much." For years "Noisy Sam" has been a "bad actor," and now he seeks to escape responsibility by throwing the odium of crimes encouraged upon the sentenced McNamara and other guilty men in the domain of labor who are likewise under the ban of being crime-doers. Gompers, in a blue funk and a rolling sweat, holds up his hands in holy horror, weeps, trembles, protests, threatens and denounces, even in his hour of peril. Detective Burns has nailed him to the cross before the country, and is pushing him hard and daring him to make oath in denial of his guilty knowledge of criminal acts of which he has been cognizant. He is trying to "get out of it" himself, and is prompting other labor leaders and followers to help him. He will fall. Gompers never had any right to lead even labor. He has no industrial sense—no economic wisdom.

There is a God in Israel. The criminal facts are bound to come out, and there will be more arrests, more trials, more convictions before the national government stays its powerful hand and ceases its necessary and justifiable work of probing the situation, searching for the truth, and apprehending yet other monstrous violators of law.

In conjunction with these marked evidences of disturbance in the labor camps, from Gompers down to Los Angeles, it is significant that many voices are going up from these camps, all of them nervous and most of them hypocritical, expressing a sudden desire to "make peace," to make a late show of moderation for forbearance on their part in their future attitude towards the industries and the employers of labor, towards industrial peace and order; in brief, towards the law and its mandates, which these suddenly-chastened shouters now pretend that they have always obeyed and are still willing to obey.

Their professions cannot be received and accepted by alert and intelligent citizens who know the facts, who are fully advised of the proscriptions and other offenses committed in the name of organized labor; citizens who are acquainted with the long, black record which for years has been in the course of making by organizations and individuals notorious for their campaigns of persecution, striking, boycotting, picketing, assaults, maiming, and even murder in not a few instances.

If there is anything sincere and honest in these late and sudden professions of reform and peaceful purposes on the part of labor leaders, and of organized labor as a whole, then proof of it must come through candid admissions, confessions, cessation, reform, and the making of those amendments which honest men make when they find themselves guilty of wrongs done against their fellows.

The era of industrial turmoil, disturbance, monopoly and proscription, for which organized labor is chiefly responsible, must come to an end; the independent, non-union workman must come into his own before industrial peace can be established on right lines.

Organized labor must purge itself of its vicious and criminal elements, and of its unjust, monopolistic and proscriptive methods, if it would bring itself into any sort of reputable standing before the country. It must vacate and reject the favorite tactics of violence and proscription employed against its opponents for years past.

It must abandon the closed shop and acknowledge the legality, rightfulness and expediency of the open shop. It must abandon attempted monopoly in the industrial field, and the proscription of non-union workers possessing all the rights under the constitution and the law which can possibly be claimed by even law-abiding organized labor (when it is law-abiding).

It must abandon the strike, the picket, the boycott and the bludgeon. It must cease striving to drive out the independent worker and to force employers to deny the unorganized man employment for fear of ill-will of the organized.

Workers must learn that, standing on a footing with all law-abiding workers, where they belong, they must expect nothing more than "equality of opportunity"—a fair chance, a fair wage, agreed hours and fair treatment from their employers. They must learn that "he who makes the pay roll has a right to control the business."

Workers have the right to organize—this has never been denied—but the organization must act within the limitations of law. The members have the right to maintain their unions within the same limitations, to seek to secure the best attainable conditions of employment and the highest "going" wages at all times and everywhere; but they have no right whatever, in reason, justice or law, to deny the right of any non-union worker to employment, or to the right of individual contract with his employer.

The demand for "collective bargaining" is not a legal requisite—it is only a business convenience. The right of individual contract, either written or oral, is sacred and supreme, and has been so declared whenever the question has come before the courts.

Leaders of organized labor ought to have the mental capacity to acquire, after a while, knowledge of the simple truth that all employers and all workers have equal rights before the law, and that "equality of opportunity" is a principle of such wisdom, fairness and beneficence as to make it essential in the industrial and commercial world. They ought to learn that this is what the law contemplates, and that it should, as nearly as practicable, have away in all places where human activity prevails.

These bogus leaders cannot always hold power; they cannot always deceive, lead by the nose and defraud their deluded followers; they cannot always pursue the mad endeavor to seize the industries, the legislatures and the Congress by the throat, and even attempt to throttle the courts and the country itself. They have proclaimed over and over again that their purpose is to take possession of the government and exert from Congress such legislation "in the interest of labor as they, and they alone, may choose to dictate. Everybody knows, how, upon the assembling of legislatures and of Congress, they come to the front and clutter up the corridors and committee rooms in the prosecution of their aggressive and often menacing legislative campaigns.

They must understand that, sooner or later, the American people will revolt against industrial despotism, as they have in the historic past revolted against other great wrongs, like southern slavery and the might of the bar for the destruction of the Union.

The Times contends for lawful, right, just and sensible conditions in the field of labor—in the industries, in commerce, in manufactures, in railroad construction and operation, in all places on land and sea where human activities are prosecuted, in all places where men work honestly with head and hand for the good of themselves, their families, their fellows, their country and their kind; and it would rejoice to see all workers of every class and kind, all citizens, and all men, whether poor and humble, or men of achievement; whether employers or employees, recognize the fundamental truth that the industries must be free in order that the greatest good shall come to all through unshackled, wise and nothing but enforced idleness, disaster, prostrated industries, paralyzed commerce, deadened manufactures, want, suffering and agony, especially to the workmen themselves and to their unfortunate and defenseless families.

As to the situation in Los Angeles, what sane man can ask or expect our men of affairs—the heads of our great industries and their independent workmen—to now relinquish the advantages that have been gained through brave and justifiable standing up through labor-union threats and aggression?

TO THE FURIOUS FOE.

On last Wednesday the preposterous paper of the preposterous Earl printed a bombastic and threatening editorial containing, among other inflammatory language, the following:

"To the 'Old Guard'—Gentlemen: The Express has fought you in the past, and it proposes to fight you in the future. In common with other agencies and all men and women who believe that the progressive policies are essential to free government, the Express has suffered defeat in past conflicts with you, and in common with those who share its beliefs it has rejoiced in some victories over you. It knows better than most how hard you can strike and how often. It knows how fanatical is your adherence to old views and old methods and old ways, and how unlikely it is that change shall transform you.

"Nevertheless, we salute you! We raise in salute the sword of journalism we have drawn on you in past conflicts, pausing for a moment's respectful observance of the courtesies of war before we enter upon a new campaign against you in behalf of the nomination by the Republican party of a true progressive as its candidate for President."

(Referring to the Earl candidate, La Follette.)

Huh! One time there came to a cattle range in the wild and somewhat woolly West a little boy named from the effete East—a toy man with a toy gun in his pretty little toy "vest"—and with the same he, in a moment of toyish rage, threatened to shoot a big cowboy against whom he had conceived an unquenchable rage for some imaginary slight. Whereupon the stalwart frontiersman in buckskin, not to say buckram, with an overgrown "gun" strapped to his huge hips, turned in his huge tracks, looked down at the furious little dude armed for bear, and with fine frontier scorn remarked upon the same: "Look here, young fellow, if you shoot me with that thing—and I find it out—I'll kick your posterior all over this here prairie!"

The application (of the cowboy's story, not of the cowboy's boot) is obvious. See?

A HUGE MISTAKE.

Iconoclasts are always great. It is no new discovery that William Tell never shot the apple off of his son's head, that Arnold Winkelried did not gather that bunch of Austrian bayonets to his breast and fall dead in order to break the ranks and make a place for his confederates to pass through. But now we have the astounding report that the American Revolution was a huge mistake, and that George Washington a rebel guilty of treason. Of course by contrast this makes our old friend George III a great patriot, philanthropist and prophet of the Most High.

This latest historical discovery must be correct, for it was made in the presence of the pedagogues of California at Sacramento assembled. The announcement came from one of them, Prof. H. A. Adrian, Superintendent of Schools of the neighboring city of Santa Barbara.

Pedagogue Adrian wants our school histories all revised. Great Britain had committed no act of tyranny, and the Boston massacre was all a mirage. The stamp acts were correct, and the colonists' refusal to obey them was a sordid desire to shirk their taxes.

If of course this not only puts Washington, "Mad Anthony" Wayne, Marion, the "Swamp-Fox," and all the generals of the Revolutionary War, and all the soldiers who took part in that conflict, all the way from Lexington to Yorktown, "in bad," but it also throws into the same discard the eloquent Edmund Burke and that other Englishman, William Pitt, heretofore regarded as a statesman of the first order. Burke's eloquence was all fustian and Pitt's statesmanship all blundering. George III was right and Washington was wrong. So were probably about nine out of every ten Englishmen at home in the "right little, tight little" state. The party that followed Burke and Pitt had very little enthusiasm for the war against the colonies, which was carried on, not by free-born Englishmen fighting their country's cause, but by hired Hessians.

What kind of blind leader of the blind is the Santa Barbara pedagogue named Adrian? Where did he come from, and to what hidden sources of information has he had access to make these astounding historical discoveries? And how do the good people of Santa Barbara stand for a teacher who thus shatters before the very eyes of their children all the national idols heretofore set up for them to worship?

Of course there is still another reflection in this connection that goes deeper down in setting the world right as to the comparative wisdom and patriotism of Washington on one side, and George III on the other. It has been an axiom of statesmanship and good government time out of mind and very generally accepted that taxation without representation was in itself a species of tyranny. Now with the character of Washington, Pitt and Burke goes glimmering into the limbo of things lost from earth this ancient and heretofore honored principle of statesmanship.

Little Surprises.

(Chicago Tribune.) "Mr. Swafford, here's the umbrella I borrowed of you a week or two ago."

"Yes, Mr. Rivers; this is the office. We discovered that your mistake in your editorial and corrected it in the gallery. You can go back to bed."

"In cleaning up your desk this morning, Mr. Brooks, I found that diamond stickpin you lost six years ago."

"Dear Madam: Your late husband had insured his life for $5000, but he didn't wish you to know it. Check for the amount is awaiting you at our office."

"Jack, I dreamed last night that you had overcome your bashfulness and asked me to name the day."

"Maw, I wish you'd cut my hair; I don't like the way the barber does it."

"In view of the lateness of the hour, gentlemen, there will be no more speeches."

(Ladies' Home Journal.) "Shine yer boots, sir."

"No!" snapped the man.

"Shine 'em so's yer can see yer face in 'em," urged the bootblack.

"No, I tell you."

"Coward!" blurted the bootblack.

Robert J. Burdette

BURDETTE AT THE BAT.

CXX.

Sanity at the Marriage Feast.

There were several beautiful features of the recent municipal campaign. One of these was that it was a fight with but two sides. That always makes a fair fight. A "battle royal" isn't a fight; it is a melee; the street fighting of a mob, which breaks the heads of friends and enemies alike. Whenever there is a square showdown between good and bad citizenship in this town, the good will always win. But when there shall be two or three good factions opposed to the solidarity of evil, the devil will get the decision every time. This is a good line for our note books, to be recalled two years from this time. Just now harmony, and good feeling, and unity, and peace, and prosperity, and the Good, the True, and the Beautiful are all stirred up in a caldron that is boiling at such a furious rate that it threatens to stop over.

Now, it is a most excellent lot of ingredients, and it is in a most excellent time to keep the fire hot and the pot boiling. But it is ever a bad thing to stop over.

Strong revolutions are apt to be succeeded by counter revolutions. The people who wanted a harmless preacher and really a gentle-hearted handclapped and cited before the court for contempt because he spoke tenderly of the dead and severely of the anarchy that murdered them are now howling for the blood of the McNamara's. Something the preacher never wanted, and never asked for, and doesn't want.

People who condoned, openly or by their grudging silence, the destruction of the Times Building are now most vociferously ferocious in demanding "vengeance" upon the heads of the foul perpetrators of that crime.

"The Play's the Thing."

Well—amen! But let's wait a bit. "Who were the perpetrators?" This is only a curtain-raiser. There are only two or three people in the cast. Let's wait until the curtain goes up on the play, with the full strength of the entire company on the stage. Let's wait until the electric lights flood every nook and corner with the light of doom, revealing hero and villain, heroine and adventures, the wicked uncle, the orphan niece, the rich, withered, heartless duke, the impassioned young lover with a shadow of a mustache and a trace of brains, as beautiful as he is poor, which is impossible; the arch plotter, and the helpless victim; two Simon Legrees, two Uncle Toms, two little Evils, two Elizas, two bloodhounds, two Markses the lawyers, two donkeys, villagers, Roman armies, wandering minstrels, long lost brothers, friskled with strawberry marks on every arm, the lost heir, the false duke, the humble sewing girl scorned to be what anybody's gold would make her, and citizens on foot—oh, there's then you can pick out your villains while they last and wreck your bloody will upon them. Let's stay for that act. And in the meanwhile remember that "what you say now may be used against you then."

Very well then. Now lay a few more cobs under the pot—they make a hotter fire than anything else. Stir in all the good feeling our human hearts can hold—patience for the sorrowing, pity for the erring, love for the unlovely, compassion for the undeserving, tolerance for the persecutors, sympathy for the ignorant, patience for the stupid, mercy for the sinners—everything good and kind and humane, charity at her tenderest and brotherhood at his noblest—doesn't it have a "sweet savor," such as Jehovah smelled, rising from the altars of the stricken earth after the deluge of death—so sweet that he resolved then and there that he would never be so hard on sinners again, isn't it sweet and brotherly and Christian? It surely is. "God bless us, every one!" Amen. "Tiny Tim!"

Now, sprinkle the offering with a little salt of sane emotion and right thinking, and justice, not the garden justice, but the practical brand we use for ourselves, tempered with so much mercy you can't taste the justice. Season to suit your taste—never rational palate. Good! No pepper, mind!

Now, set the pot on the back of the stove and let it simmer, and simmer, and simmer through all the years. For if the potage is made just right, that pot will last like the widow's crust. The more you pour out the more will be left to pour.

But if you should pour in a little too much hysteria it will foam and bubble and the gauges will go up in the boiler and stop over until the pot is dry as an exhausted geyser and there won't be anything left for anybody.

Whisky and Water.

That's one reason why eternal comradeships sworn over a glass of beer or champagne never last so long as lifelong friendships pledged over a cup of cold water right from the spring. Too much foam and sparkle. Whisky is mighty quiet in the jug. But it talks like a mass meeting of parrots when it gets in the head. Sprinkle water isn't much of a stimulator of loquacity. But it's a powerful refresher for the intellectual faculties. It doesn't make men talk. It helps them to think.

That's why the orator uses it on the platform. It isn't to clear his voice or rest his throat. His voice is all right. But while he is drinking he is thinking. The more slowly he drains the glass the more deeply he is thinking. Haven't you ever noticed that when he sets the glass down, after a long, slow, deliberate drink he starts off on a new train of thought, fresh as a daisy, nery as a race horse, eager as a pugilist getting his second wind? That's because his drink gave him opportunity to call up his reserve argument, reign his scattered thoughts and recall the screamer of a story he has been trying to remember ever since he got up.

Courage, Ye Mariners.

Let the prohibitionists take heart, then. Take all you want of it, brethren. It's about all that is left for you to take. The other crowd got all the white meat and second joint. There seems to be nothing left on the election platter but giblets. And not any gray. But never mind. You were not beaten worse than the Socialists. And in their proclamations they speak of their "glorious victory" and "triumphant success" in the recent election. They kept the majority against them down under the hundred thousand mark and are tripping all that is left of the campaign fund in fireworks. And they have already reformed their line of battle and the order has gone forth—"On to the Sacramento." They are after the Legislature. God help the Legislature! Somebody is always after it. There is no woodshed so high that its goat can browse in safety. When it isn't the women it's somebody else. Why not get after it yourselves?

Cort's own star, Lawrence D'Orray, in his greatest success "The Earl of Pawtucket," a comedy by Augustus Thomas.

Mr. Thomas wrote the play to fit D'Orray and it is agreed that he made a success of his effort.

Not all of our art worshippers, however, were in attendance at the symphony yesterday. Some of them do not like music. They are too ultra-high-brow, evidently.

Deane Worley, he of James J. Jeffries proportions and a Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford personality and smile, who is incidentally Sullivan & Considine's local impresario of popular-priced vaudeville, and who is considered somewhat of an authority on the problem of entertaining the public, is not only a close student of the people who find their amusement in popular-priced vaudeville, but has lately delved into the history of vaudeville.

After much careful research, Mr. Worley has ascertained that vaudeville originated back in Gaza, when Samson put on a strong-man "turn" that brought down the house; and that some of the jokes now running were utilized by him to pad out the original black-face act.

Herod Antipas was the first royal patron of vaudeville and did a great deal to popularize the Salome dance, a novelty which so excited John the Baptist that he lost his head entirely. Vaudeville came into this country from France, breaking through quarantine when Anthony Comstock was a senator. It has proved a very useful adjunct of the courts in the United States, as any attractive woman who poisons her husband or strangles her rival has money enough to get out of it immediately sentenced to the stage.

Many of the leading exponents of vaudeville nowadays are graduates of correspondent schools, while others are merely amateurs of limited all-mony.

There was a new joke in vaudeville once but it died young of overwork. Many people pronounce vaudeville not only amusing and entertaining, but enlightening and uplifting; others pronounce it harmless, but nearly everybody pronounces it incorrect.

These are the results of Deane Worley's careful investigations, which he says he intends to form an important paragraph in his history of the real stage.

Harry Corson Clarke will present his own company at the Lyceum Theatre for the week commencing Sunday, in his latest laughing hit, "His Absent Boy," by Sydney Rosenfeld. The musical act, will headline the program on bill next week. It has eleven artists in it, the act is set in an old
